1. Location: Camp Buzias is located 2 kilometers due east of the Buzias railroad station. It is 4.2 kilometers from the center of the city via the highway which runs in a generally south-east, east, and then north direction.
2. Construction: The construction of this military camp was started in 1949 and ended in 1951. The building of the camp was carried out by the Sovromconstructie, under the supervision of the Office of Military Domains, which is part of the Ministry of Armed Forces. The barracks of the camp can house an entire infantry division.
3. Organization of the camp: The camp consists of three rows of buildings. Each row has 12 buildings and each building is planned according to the model in the attached sketch. Each building houses a company of riflemen. In each dormitory there are 200 beds arranged in two rows along the walls. The beds are double-deckers.
4. There are three buildings for headquarters and offices. These buildings are two stories high, 80 x 30 meters in dimension. Building No. 3 was arranged as a cultural-recreation building, with a movie theater, conference hall and library. North of these buildings there are other buildings used as garages, and storehouses of different kinds. In all, the camp has 83 buildings.
5. All the buildings are made of brick and the roofs are of red tile. The walls are yellow masonry. The camp has its own electric and water plants. The roads which connect the buildings are paved with square stones. Near the main gate there are three wooden barracks of the Sovromconstructie Company which contain offices, dormitories and a canteen for the workmen.
